Dear Sirs,

Pass the Word Europe

I was in Montepulciano on 14 May and saw in the car park your notice about parking for campervans.

I am from New Zealand and am presently touring in Europe in a British campervan. In this campervan I have a hot shower, cooking facilities, chemical toilet, a large fresh water container and a large waste water container, so that my only needs are fresh water and toilet disposal. I dislike, therefore, having to pay high campground fees, and I support you and congratulate you on your campaign to have cities provide adequate parking facilities for campervans.

There is a similar problem in England and in New Zealand and, as I shall be in Europe until early September, I should be grateful if you could send me any information which I could pass on and thus help your campaign.

Are there any parking places in Florence, in Berlin, or in other cities, similar to the one in Montepulciano? If so I should be delighted to hear of them.

Yours sincerely,

Neil C. Laurie
